

For Immediate Release

ROBERT T. CONVEY JOINS AEI AS VICE PRESIDENT OF SALES & MARKETING

MIAMI, FL– AUGUST 10, 2009 - Aeronautical Engineers, Inc. (AEI), a global leader in passenger to freighter conversions, today announced that Robert T. Convey, has joined as Vice President of Sales & Marketing.

“With his in-depth understanding of the passenger to freighter conversion market, Mr. Convey will be a valuable asset in helping our company increase its market share and worldwide presence,” said Roy Sandri, President of AEI.

Mr. Convey, who has more than 15 years experience in the commercial aviation industry, comes to AEI from Ancra International where he served as Director of Sales & Marketing for the past five years. As part of the Ancra team he contributed greatly to their rapid growth and market domination by more than doubling the company’s revenue.

In addition to his many professional accomplishments, Mr. Convey is also a licensed commercial pilot and has been flying modern and vintage WWII aircraft for the past 20 years.

About AEI

Formed in 1958, Aeronautical Engineers Inc. (AEI) is the oldest conversion company in existence today. For more than 50 years AEI has provided advanced engineering solutions to aircraft owners and operators. Today the company is a global leader in passenger to freighter conversions for a wide array of aircraft, helping customers extend the life of the aircraft and increase the value of their asset. AEI has developed over 120 Supplemental Type Certificates (STCs), 350+ aircraft have been modified with AEI STCs – more than any other conversion provider.

SOURCE: AEI – 08/12/2009